Bay Lady is sailed by a bunch of folks who race the Bay every weekend so we'll be able to tell what's happening throughout each race. On this The Bay Lady short sight-seeing cruise you will see: Nature: the sights and sounds of sealife and sea breezes, gentle waves and some fog now and then The busy harbor: lobster boats, yachts, sailing boats and even an occasional cruise ship The working waterfront: shipyards, fishing piers, coast guard station, marinas, oceanographic research lab The scenic shore: lighthouses, rocky cliffs and many islands, with brief stops for Squirrel Island passengers Nightlights: lighthouses flashing their beacons to ship at sea, starlight The Bay Lady moonbeams forming mysterious paths across the sea, village lights reflected in the calm harbor waters. Find out more about how your privacy is protected. Midweek Passengers The Friendship Sloop is recognizable by its large gaff rig mainsail and long bowsprit.
